REDUCED REDUCTIONS IN RAILROAD RATES.

The Recent Railroad Disaster at Duyvil—Accidents and Crimes in Various Localities.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Capt. Hooper, of the nineteenth precinct, was at the coroner's office, having summoned George Mellus, the brakeman to whose carelessness the railroad disaster at Spuyten Duyvil is attributed. Mellus was permitted to have an interview with his daughter, and will be released to-morrow.

The case of Oliver B. Keely, of Philadelphia, at the coroner's office to-day and secured the body of his nephew with him.

The remains in the undertaker's office one was identified, from the wreck of the railroad train yesterday evening. It had been reported that Thomas, who was in company with Mr. Richards, of Brooklyn, perished in the train. It happened Thomas left at Albany last night turned up. He went to Philadelphia immediately. It is now thought the body of Mr. Richards of Brooklyn, known to have been in the train and missing since.

An Engineer's Story.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Frank Burr, engineer of the train which collided with the Chicago express over last, to-day made a statement to the press, as follows: We left Tarrytown at 8:25, and stopped at Spuyten Duyvil twenty minutes behind regular time because of the Chicago express to pass. It went on at 8:45, and stopped at Spuyten Duyvil waiting for the time card we were there. We passed the Chicago express when we were chatty in communication as he was in New York, he is now more reserved and guarded. He has said so little that he has puzzled the politicians, so for a time there were many theories printed and issued about his intentions and plans. The opinion that is crystalizing among the leading men at Washington is that Arthur is one of the small minded persons who ever filled the place of president. No one hesitates more than he over an appointment. It is not because it takes him longer to make up his mind, but is through fear that the appointment will not be popular. He dallies to such a degree that it is doubtful if he would have insisted upon the retirement of a single member of the cabinet if they had felt really inclined to hold their places. It is a matter of fact that he had agreed the other day to make Sargent secretary of the interior. He practically told Mr. Sargent that he was to have the place, and it is pretty generally understood in Washington that he sent word to Sargent to come here from California and that the latter would not have left home if he had not understood that the president desired to see him. Now the real reasons why Arthur hesitates to appoint Sargent is on account of the tremendous criticism which he says he will have to face for putting up a man who has already been marked as a jobber and corruptionist, and who has been burned in effigy at his home, where ordinary political peccadilloes are regarded as virtuous. I will do Arthur this justice, however—he is in a place that he did not want.

Diplomatic Matters.

PITKIN of Louisiana, the "My Dear Pitkin" of Butler's letters, it is thought very probably may be made minister to Mexico. There is no intention to remove Lowell from London. There will be changes in Central American missions, and it is probable no appointment will be taken from the Pacific coast. John O. Smith, former Indian commissioner, now consul-general at Montreal, is said to be booked for removal. The President stated yesterday to a gentlemen whose business relates to an appointment to an office, the commissioner of the incumbent of which will expire eight weeks hence, that he was so nearly overwhelmed with the current labor of attending to making appointments to fill the many vacancies which already exist and which occur from day to day, that he could not consistently or properly only take up any case in advance of the expiration of the official commission. "Porte Crayon," Gen. Strother, is not expected to return as consul general to the City of Mexico. The successor of Hurlbut as minister to Peru, will probably be soon selected. Judge Bingham, instead of returning to run for congress in Ohio, may receive the Austrian mission. Still it seems certain that John Russell Young will go to Japan or China. It is possible that Judge Hunt, secretary of the navy, may receive the Berlin mission, and it is almost certain John C. New can go to Russia if he wishes. The late John Wentz of Illinois, U. S. consul at Quebec, who has been in the city several days is here seeking promotion in the consular service of the nation.

Orth's Committee Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Representative Orth has prepared the following measures relating to selection of committees and will submit it if the house at the earliest opportunity:

First—the house, after its organization at the commencement of each congress, shall proceed to constitute a board to select committees and to consist of members to serve during such congress. The board shall be selected and constituted as follows: The roll of members shall be called and each member shall thereupon by viva voce designate some one member to serve as chairman of such board, and the person receiving the highest number of votes given, if a majority of the whole house, shall be such chairman; and at the same roll call each member shall name five members to serve on said board and the ten persons having the highest number of votes shall with such chairman constitute such board, provided, however, if no person shall have received a majority of votes of the house for chairman, there shall be immediately a subsequent vote or votes until a chairman is elected as aforesaid.

Second—It shall be the duty of said board within a reasonable time to report to the house the standing, select and joint committees, provided for by the rules and ordered by the house, the names of members of each committee to be reported in order of their length of service in congress, and where two or more are equal in length of service, the names of such shall be reported in alphabetical order, and when such report is agreed to by the house, either with or without amendment, the committees thus constituted shall be, permanent committees of the house during such congress. Vacancies occurring in any committee shall be filled by said board subject alike to the action of the house.

Third—At the first or subsequent meeting of any committee of the house two-thirds at least of the members being present, it shall proceed to designate some one of its members to act as chairman during such congress, and shall also have power to fill any permanent or temporary vacancy in such chairmanship.

More of Sargent.

A special from Washington states that unless those nearest the president are mistaken, General Arthur has overcome any doubts he may have entertained as to the wisdom of making Sargent secretary of the interior, and the appointment of that gentleman may be considered as determined upon. The president did hesitate for some time, but it is pretty certain he does so no longer and will risk the criticism of the party. Sargent was with the president last Thursday, and it is believed at the interview Mr. Sargent was not only made acquainted with the president's decision, but that the policy of the administration as to interior department matters was outlined.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The house committee on appropriations agreed to make an appropriation of $35,000 to aid in propagation of white fish.

A bill was introduced by Rosecrans to extend the time for making payment and proof of desert land entered by Belford, and restoring to the public domain and opening to settlement lands in Colorado lately occupied by the Uncompahgre tribe of White river Utes.

Friends of ex-congressman Stone of Michigan are quite confident he will be appointed commissioner of patents.

Senator Farley informed republicans this morning that democrats had now no objections to a bill pensioning Mrs. Lincoln, but would unite in putting it through. The urgency of the case is that Mrs. Lincoln needs the money.

The Herald's Washington special says: Belford will introduce in the house to-morrow a bill to provide for leasing public lands in Colorado in tracts of 5000 acres to any one person for a period not exceeding twenty years. The bill is intended to prevent further donations of public land to corporations and for the encouragement and protection of the business of raising cattle and sheep.

Well informed persons say to-day that the president will not make any new cabinet appointment for some time to come, if at all, and that no names have been determined on.

The Division of Spoils.

By a resolution of the senate, recently passed, the postmaster general was directed to furnish the senate a tabulated statement of the number of clerks in his department and also to what states they were credited. The list has been completed and contains 442 names. Of these 2 are from Colorado, 2 from Oregon and 3 from California. The District of Columbia has 83, Maryland 37, New York 45, Pennsylvania 36 and Virginia 30.

Enterprising Indians.

The Tribune's Washington special says: A memorial from some of the chief men of the Sioux of Dakota, which will be presented to congress Sioux of Dakota, which will be presented to congress to-day, sets forth the advance made by the tribe in civilization and asks that they may have lands granted to them in severalty and that they be treated with common fairness and honesty.

Gen. Carr Under Arrest.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Special from Washington: A letter has been received in this city from Gen. Carr, in which he states he is under arrest and has been ordered to Fort Grant for trial. Nothing is known here of the causes which led to the arrest, except that they grew out of the Apache troubles last summer. Order for the arrest was issued by Gen. Willcox.

Sargent's Success.

A Graphic Washington special says: Despite frequent predictions to the contrary it is settled beyond question that Sargent will be secretary of the interior.

Sued for Libel.

SCOVILLE, council for Guiteau, has ordered a libel suit against the Chicago Herald Company for recent publications concerning his bankruptcy proceedings some years ago.

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

Scoville's Argument Takes up the Day's Proceedings.

HIS SPEECH OF LITTLE MERIT AND LESS POINT.

Judge Porter Sick and Unable to Attend Court—Corkhill Compelled to Listen to Scoville's Talk.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—As soon as court formally opened Scoville commenced his address to the jury, by confessing his unfamiliarity with the modes of practice in criminal cases. All defense asked for was a fair, candid, impartial weighing of evidence by fair and candid men. Counsel would attempt no oratory because he was not equal to it, and because he would not do it if he could. He would address himself simply to the reason, judgment and intellect of the jury. Oratory, eloquence and appeals to passion he would leave for counsel who would follow him (Porter) and he desired to warn them that in the efforts of the learned counsel (Porter) to expound law or explain evidence he would invariably seek to influence them through their emotions, to touch their hearts and sway their sympathies rather than convince their judgment. I do not care to complain, although I do not think that as counsel in conduct of this case I have been treated with fairness. Personally I care nothing for it, but when it injures the case in which my efforts are enlisted, then I must complain. I hold in my hand an indictment for conspiracy which I have framed in my own mind and its object. This conspiracy was to hang the prisoner. Scoville proceeded to name the conspirators: The district attorney, Judge Porter, Mr. Davidge and five of the government experts, naively, Drs. Gray, Hamilton, Kempster, McDonald and Wooster. The counts of this indictment, 20 in number, are:

First—They have perverted law in this case. Scoville in illustration or support of this count, alluded to the introduction by Judge Porter of the decision of Judge Davis. He said counsel upon the other side indignantly repudiated the suggestion that Judge Davis sat with Carlton or Barnard, but I have yet to learn if either of them ever committed a more reprehensible act than that of Judge Davis.

Scoville warmed up with the subject and announced in severe language the extra judicial act of Judge Davis. Had a newspaper been guilty of such a bold faced attempt to influence a decision in the pending case, the editor would have been subject to arrest for contempt.

Judge Porter—Don't let us turn this court room into a town meeting.

Scoville resumed, but he was soon interrupted by Davidge, who with some impatience said "Oh no! no! no! Scoville, that's not so."

Scoville—You may interrupt as much as you please, but you shall not be deterred from saying what I believe to be true.

Guiteau—That's right, Davidge, you keep quiet. You talked for two days.

Scoville—Prosecution state that if prisoner knew the act was wrong on July 2d then he should hang. Now this is not by any means the whole of it, or a correct statement of the law. The court has added in substance as follows: "yet if in this act he was controlled by the consciousness coming through his diseased mind that what he was doing was necessary for the good of the country, and was specially approved by God, then you cannot convict him of murder." Continuing Scoville said, the second count in the indictment is the perversion of the testimony, and he proceeded to sustain this count by John O. Smith, former Indian commissioner, now consul-general at Montreal, is said to be booked for removal. The President stated yesterday to a gentlemen whose business relates to an appointment to an office, the commissioner of the incumbent of which will expire eight weeks hence, that he was so nearly overwhelmed with the current labor of attending to making appointments to fill the many vacancies which already exist and which occur from day to day, that he could not consistently or properly take up any case in advance of the expiration of the official commission. "Porte Crayon," Gen. Strother, is not expected to return as consul general to the City of Mexico. The successor of Hurlbut as minister to Peru, will probably be soon selected. Judge Bingham, instead of returning to run for congress in Ohio, may receive the Austrian mission. Still it seems certain that John Russell Young will go to Japan or China. It is possible that Judge Hunt, secretary of the navy, may receive the Berlin mission, and it is almost certain John C. New can go to Russia if he wishes. The late John Wentz of Illinois, U. S. consul at Quebec, who has been in the city several days is here seeking promotion in the consular service of the nation.

Guiteau—"How many innocent people are there who are in this court room?" and he added, "not one."

A moment later he called out, "I don't care to libel Christian people, but I want the record Strother, a man of the highest Christian men and women are virtuous, but the mass of mankind are not. Let that go on record."

As Scoville paused a moment, Guiteau raised a laugh by calling out, "a pretty good place to stop, Scoville; it's most half-past twelve; let's have a recess."

Recess was then taken.

Porter stated that he would be unable, owing to the condition of his health, to remain this afternoon, but desired Scoville not to abstain for that reason from saying anything he desired to say.

After recess Scoville proceeded to point out to the jury what he termed misrepresentations of evidence by Davidge. Judge Porter's seat was vacant, while the district attorney indicated by his appearance that he wished his was also. Scoville having intimated that he should criticise the conduct of the district attorney as chief partner in this wicked conspiracy (as alleged by him) to hang the prisoner, but would not do so in his absence as he was not in the habit of saying things behind one's back, Col. Corkhill was sent for by his brother counsel and he reluctantly came into court, abandoning the rest he was seeking. "I haven't," he said, "the slightest interest in anything he can say against me. However, I will come back and give him an opportunity to abuse me."

Scoville dwelt at great length upon what Davidge deemed immaterial matter, and the latter remarked to the discomfiture of counsel to cease time needlessly. Scoville retorted that he did not propose to have matters of fact which were contained in the record go before the jury willfully perverted, or enveloped in artificial obscurity.

Guiteau—That's right, stand by the record. Davidge had better read my speech, it is published in all the leading papers of America this morning, and takes up a whole page.

Scoville attacked the theory of prosecution that it was the prisoner's own innate or acquired depravity that naturally led up to the killing of the president and discussed at some length the evidence introduced by them to show instances of the prisoner's meanness and depravity. This evidence, said Scoville, has in almost every instance been perverted. He then alluded to the evidence relative to the prisoner obtaining money from Rev. Dr. McArthur and giving his note for it.

Guiteau in his seat observed, "If McArthur will send the note down, I'll cash it now."

Scoville continued—They brought a man here at the expense of $150 to prove the moral turpitude of this prisoner, and what was the effect of his evidence?

Guiteau—To prove that I pay my debts.

Scoville—He testified Guiteau paid him $30 for a deal, just what he contracted to pay him, and that's all there was in his testimony to show moral turpitude. Scoville reviewed the incident of Guiteau's getting English out of jail in New York. The prosecution laid great stress upon this incident as showing the morality of the prisoner, but in his (Scoville's) opinion Guiteau earned his money in this case, and there was nothing whatever in this transaction to his (Guiteau's) discredit.

Prisoner cried once or twice and finally succeeded in making himself heard. He said, "In relation to this incident I would say just here, the reason I had so much trouble in getting English out of jail was that he was a fraud, and Winston and the Mutual Life were dead against him and did not want him to get out of jail. I had all the money of the Mutual Life to work against in the sheriff's office, and I never would have got him out if I hadn't hung to the case like a dog to a piece of meat. That's the way I do when I start on anything."

Scoville continued—Counsel parades debts owed by prisoner and attempt to make much of them in this chain they are weaving.

Guiteau—I owe about $10,000, and I suppose that ought to hang a man. If these people will send their bills now I'll give them checks for them and get them out of the way, I suppose. I've got some money now. I'll get rid of these people and then I won't owe anybody.

Scoville denounced witness Shaw. He believed he had deliberately perjured himself in this case, as had also the contemptible little Jew clerk who came down here to help Shaw out.

Guiteau screamed out—"This whole testimony of Shaw is false and no decent man would believe it for an instant."

As the court was about to adjourn, Guiteau called out, "I desire your honor to read my speech to-night, so I can discuss it with you to-morrow."

Adjourned till to-morrow.

Tombstone Clippings.

TOMBSTONE, Jan. 16.—During the last 48 hours it has been raining and snowing and the streets are now muddier than at any time last year. The weather is now settled and clear.

The suit of the Contention against Head Center began to-day. There was no trouble in getting a jury of good men. Wm. M. Stewart, Alex. Campbell and Berry & Lewis are attorneys for Contention, and Col. Harry J. Thornton, Judge Mossick and Geo. R. Williams for Head Center.

George Hearst has bought the Contact mine, for which it is reported he pays $55,000. It is a most valuable property. Its goes to Winchester district this week to examine the new strike that has caused so much excitement here the last two weeks. P. W. Smith has bonded five locations in that district without any work on them for $10,000. The ledges are said to be large and the ore assays from $1000 to $1400 per ton from surface mining. The prospect was never so bright for Tombstone as now, and it is likewise good for the whole territory.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Morrill presented a memorial of Rhode Island manufacturers against the passage of the tariff commission bill.

Logan introduced a bill to pay Mrs. Lincoln arrearages of pensions for five years from the death of Lincoln. Laid on table. Passage of act providing for a pension to be granted to amount to $5,000, and asked for immediate consideration.

Blair said the pension committee was preferring a good many private pension bills which would equitably fall under this case and thanked Mrs. Garfield. On his suggestion the bill was referred to that committee.

House.

It began immediately after the reading of the journal, called up as a privileged question the report from the committee on rules submitted by him Thursday, increasing the membership of various committees.

A point of order was raised by Townsend and Burrows that the call of states was necessary before bills could be introduced.

The speaker overruled the point of order, holding that the privileged question took precedence before the call of states.

Burrows raised the question of consideration and the house decided not to consider the question of privilege at present.

Under call of states the following bills were introduced and referred:

By Wheeler of Alabama, to prevent introduction of infectious and contagious diseases; also to aid in the establishment of temporary support of common schools.

Census deficiency bill passed.

By Farwell, to repeal the law imposing a tax on banks' capital and deposits, and also repealing the tax on bank stamps and matches.

By Bryson, to define the crime of bigamy and punish offenders.

By Hazelton, directing the secretary of the treasury to issue fractional currency in the sums of 10, 25 and 50 cents, 50,000,000 of each to be exchangeable in lots of ten dollars or upwards for coin and legal tenders. This currency shall not be designated as notes or promises.

By Ford, for payment of bounties to heirs of colored troops serving in the late war; also to establish postal telegraph lines in the United States.

By Houk, granting pensions to civil officers injured in the service of the United States, or to their widows and children.

By Upton, providing for a treaty with Mexico.

By Hazelton, to declare certain lands heretofore granted to Pacific railway companies forfeited to the United States, and to restore the same to the public domain; referred to committee on Pacific railroads.

By Deuster, to terminate the treaty of naturalization between the United States and the North German union, and providing for a treaty with the German empire.

By Springer, in relation to the Venezuela award. Identical with a bill introduced by Senator Voorhees.

By Young, to tax and regulate the manufacture of glucose.

By Calkins, to provide for regulation of elections in Utah.

By McCord, for judicial ascertainment of claims against the United States, and for making the terms of office of presidential electors four years and giving them power to act in case of death or disability of the president and vice president.

By Hewitt, to amend the law providing that the tax on distilled spirits shall hereafter be only due and payable on withdrawal of such spirits from bond.

By Horr, to provide for a postal card with a double cover to conceal the message.

By Willets, to make a wife a competent witness in trials for bigamy in the territories.

By Burrows, to retire national bank notes.

A bill was also introduced for the admission of Washington territory as a state.

A resolution was introduced calling for the decision by the commissioners of general land office, declaring the land grant made the Northern Pacific road in aid of the construction of law granting the same, and also decision of Carl Schurz overruling the decision of the commissioner and restoring the lands to the Northern Pacific.

Conger, on behalf of the committee on the district of Columbia, moved to pass a bill incorporating the Garfield Memorial hospital.

Half an hour's debate disclosed some objection to the measure, on the ground that there were already enough hospitals in the district for all practical purposes and that the incorporation of another would have the effect of bringing to the district hundreds of sick persons from other states, who should be taken care of in various state institutions, and that there was nothing in the bill which would prevent incorporators from applying to the government for assistance.

Motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill was defeated. Yeas, 146; nays, 86; not the necessary two-thirds affirmative.

What we would Like to Have.

Congressman George to-day introduced a bill proposing the following appropriations for Oregon and Washington territory rivers and harbors: For permanent improvement of the mouth of Columbia river, as recommended by Col. Gillespie, U. S. Engineer, $500,000; for constructing a Pacific coast harbor of refuge at Port Orford, $250,000; for Cascade locks, $750,000; lower Willamette and Columbia, $133,000; Coos bay, $60,000; Yaquina bay, $60,000; Coquille bar $95,000, and river above $2500; upper Columbia and Snake rivers, $20,000; upper Willamette and Yamhill, $10,000; Umpqua, $12,000; Lewis river, $500; Alsea, $2500; Cowlitz, $2000; Skamokawa, $1,000 and Young's river $1000. Nearly all the foregoing amounts are the sums recommended by the engineers' department. Mr. George to-day presented petitions from nearly two thousand citizens of Oregon asking for an appropriate form of legislation to regulate inter-state traffic on railroads.

Ungratified Curiosity.

PANAMA, Jan. 8.—The Lima correspondent of the Star and Herald says: It was hoped the American diplomatists would give some indication regarding the purpose of their visit to the countries, and all Lima dreaded the development with anxiety. The commission, however, will set out of Callao bay on Christmas day, bound for Chili and the general sentiment of national curiosity was not gratified.

Notes from Peru and Chili.

The latest from Peru is to the 28th Dec. The American commissioners had then left Lima for Chili. The day after they arrived at Callao there was quite a severe earthquake. Great expectations had been built upon the arrival of these gentlemen by the Peruvians, but so far as heard from nothing has yet resulted from their visit, and affairs remain in statu quo. It is not believed Chili will be so rash as to threaten war with the United States. Serious misunderstanding between the two countries is looked upon as probable, unless diplomacy of Messrs Trescott and Blaine proves equal to the emergency. The Chilians are in bad temper and will require soothing down.

Work on the canal has been almost wholly interrupted for the past week by a general strike among the laborers. The price asked is $1 50 per day. They say that the price of rent, food, clothing, etc., have advanced so much it is impossible to live at the old rate; $1 50 per day, besides it is quite true that the money used in paying off is at a discount of 20 per cent, amounts to but 80 cents on the dollar. It is though the canal, railroad and steamship companies might very well afford to restore the currency with which they pay their employees to the value of American, English or French gold and silver. As it is now, great corporations may be accused of taking rather a small advantage of the necessities of poor laborers.

Catarrh a POISON

Wel De Meyer's Treatise on Catarrh, explains the following important facts:

1. That Catarrhal Colds become a poisonous infection, at first local, and nearly constitutional.

2. That, being Constitutional, the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies.

3. That impurities in the nostrils, are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs, thus poisoning the Digestive, Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs.

4. That Catarrhal virus follows the mucous membrane and causes Deafness, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Bronchitis, Leucorrhœa, and Consumption.

5. That Smokes, Douches, Inhalations, and Insoluble Snuffs, cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named.

6. That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an inoculative affinity for, and the quality of being absorbed by, the purulent mucous whoever located.

Based upon these plain theories, Dr. Wel De Meyer's Catarrh Cure has proved to be infallible. It not only relieves, it cures Catarrh at any stage. Home testimony:

LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY,

120 Broadway, New York.

LIFE INSURANCE PROFITS DEMONSTRATED BY ACTUAL SETTLEMENTS MADE IN 1880.

The Society is now paying maturing Tontine Policies with the following remarks, to results:

POLICIES CARRIED TEN YEARS WITH THE RETURN OF ALL PREMIUMS PAID AND INTEREST THEREON.

1st Example: Policy No. 43,563, issued May 23, 1861. Amount.....$25,000 00
Total premiums paid (11 years).....5,500 00
The assured is now entitled to draw, in cash, $6,450, having had besides $10,000 of assurance for eleven years. 15 per cent. of premiums paid, returnable in cash.

This example and those which follow show that

LARGER PROFITS ARE PAID POLICY-HOLDERS THAN ARE NOW DECLARED BY ANY OTHER COMPANY.

2d Example: Policy No. 66 545, issued Dec. 30, 1870. Endowment 20 years. Term Period ten years. Amount.....$10,000 00
Total premiums paid (10 years).....7,538 00
The assured on Dec. 30, 1880, was entitled to draw in cash, $9,033 90, 120 per cent of the premiums paid.

These results, although predicted by carefully made estimates, are

NOT ESTIMATES, BUT ACTUAL CASH RETURNS.

3d Example: Policy No. 41,821, issued March 27, 1865. Amount.....$5,000 00
Total premiums paid.....2,350 00

In this case the assured withdrew, March 27, 1880, in cash $3,242 85, being 114 per cent. of premiums paid.

Many policies will be issued in 1881, similar to

CASH RETURNS OF FROM 100 TO 120 PER CENT. OF THE PREMIUMS PAID.

Assets securely invested of $43,000,000. Surplus, nearly $10,000,000. The Society's popularity is shown by the fact that for the past five years the total amount of new policies issued has been greater than that of any other company in existence that was doing its average

ANNUAL NEW BUSINESS LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER COMPANY.

The Society pays death claims promptly and in full. Its policies are clear and concise, and with no unreasonable conditions.

EVERY POLICY BECOMES INCONTESTABLE AFTER THREE YEARS.

TUESDAY MORNING, JAN. 17, 1882.

SLOW PROGRESS.

The Oregon Colonist (published at Corvallis), says:

It is a gratifying fact, in view of recent statements in THE OREGONIAN, that the valley of progression at all is doing so at a very slow rate, that the total assessable property in Linn county this year, 1881, amounts to $6,607,503, as against $4,934,479 for 1880, a part of this increase is no doubt due to the fact that the farmers are fast recovering from the effects of the damage done by rust in 1880, for the first time in the history of Oregon. But Benton county suffered little from rust and there the increase is from $1,776,282 in 1880 to $2,450,446 in 1881. So that the increase of value in these two counties is at the rate of 38.18 per cent. in the one year.

The fact would indeed be a gratifying one if it were truly accounted for by the statement given. But it is not. And therefore "the recent statements of THE OREGONIAN" are not thus to be discredited. The increase of assessable property not only in the counties named, but in all the counties, is chiefly due to the new assessment law which was enacted by the legislature at its last session. By this law some of the most glaring abuses practised for concealment or falsification of property have been checked or diminished. During many years before its enactment the property values in many counties, as shown by assessors' returns, had been nearly stationary. To illustrate, so long ago as 1858 the value of property in Benton county was returned at $1,799,104. The Colonist shows that it was but $1,776,282 in 1880. But in 1881 the new law came into force and the valuation went up to $2,450,446. Polk county, so long ago as 1858, had a valuation of $2,217,066. In 1877 its valuation was only $1,506,132. But the new law applied to Polk now puts the valuation of that county up to $2,408,279. A like or very similar showing could be made of other counties. Again, the four-mill tax for state purposes produced in 1878, $184,961 30, and in 1879, $185,691 24. The same tax under the new law produced in 1881, $237,024 62.

These figures sufficiently answer the attempt made in the paragraph above quoted to discredit a statement presented by THE OREGONIAN. It is this journal's habit to exercise great care in all statements of fact, but to conceal nothing on the ground that it might be unpalatable to this or that locality, if published. When it showed that the Willamette valley counties were making very slow growth and progress, it had for the basis of that demonstration a survey of population, production, trade and assessors' returns for a long period, and to these it added the personal observation of thirty years. The conditions existing in the Willamette valley are not favorable to rapid progress. Some of the causes we have heretofore pointed out. It is unnecessary to repeat them now. Already, as our tables of the 1st January showed, there is a traffic movement up and down the upper Columbia river distinctly greater than north and south in the Willamette valley, with the traffic of Umpqua valley thrown in.

But to return to valuations, it is necessary to say that in no county have the rolls yet been marked up sufficiently, even under the new law. The total taxable property of the state during the year 1881 is returned at $59,256,175. This is a large gain over former years; but we suppose no one doubts that the taxable property of the state amounts in reality to $200,000,000.

ABUSE OF GENEROSITY.

It would be difficult to tell, even approximately, how much money is sent yearly from this country to Ireland. The vast numbers of Irishmen in America are constantly sending money privately to their friends and great sums raised by public subscriptions are transmitted from year to year. The question arises, are these sums contributed wisely and honestly expended. It is creditable to the warmth and generosity of the Irish race that the contributions are kept up; but after all, in this "golden age," when embezzlement, defalcation and reckless expenditure are so common, and so many men are bartering honor and soul for the mighty dollar, it behooves philanthropic contributors to the worthy cause of the oppressed poor in that persecuted island to take care that their charity shall reach and alleviate the sufferers for whom it is intended.

Mr. Pigott, ex-editor of an Irish newspaper, asserts that Mr. Patrick Egan, treasurer of the land-league fund contributed chiefly by American-Irish, exacts a salary of £2000 a year, and as much more for his expenses in Paris. This would be $10,000 for salary and $10,000 for expenses—or $20,000 a year in all. If what Pigott alleges is true it is a shameful waste of the money of American-Irish, little less in a moral point of view than embezzlement. It is doubtful if Egan earned one-tenth of the sum he is charged with taking from the donations before he became treasurer of the land-league fund. Pigott, however, may have exaggerated the amount.

Yet in fact of the millions sent by Irish and native Americans to Ireland within the past twenty years who can tell how much has found its way in the shape of food and clothing into the squalid homes of those distressed people? Thousands of small farms could have been purchased and neat cottages placed on them either in Ireland or this country, for the money thus contributed. There is always danger of pecculation from a fund which is received without responsibility and for which no accounting is or can be exacted by lawful authority.

Harvard has established a university school for women, which has completed its second year. Forty-seven ladies have attended the classes the past year. They have shown themselves eager, devoted and thoroughly well conducted students. Sixteen of them were students the year before. The general tendency, it is reported, has been toward the choice of the traditional classical curriculum, and not toward science. All the courses in Greek have been taken. The managers intend to continue their experiment at least two years longer, perhaps four years. The Boston Herald says: "What is already shown in this movement is the existence in the community of a class of women who are capable of taking a high grade of instruction, and who may be said to have reached the point where they require it. More and more the young women in the preparatory schools are inclined to take a classical course and qualify themselves for the annex." Of the forty-seven students the larger number, thirty-nine, came from Massachusetts. The health of the students has been good, and Secretary Gilman says that they "have conducted themselves in a manner so exemplary and in all respects satisfactory, notwithstanding the almost entire freedom to which they have been left, that they have rendered the work of both managers and instructors pleasant, and have prepared the public to support the movement with heartiness."

The discovery of a deserted city, sixty miles long, cut out of the rocky face of a winding cliff, rewarded the efforts of Mr. Stevenson's Smithsonian Institution exploring party during its researches in New Mexico and Arizona the past season. This is by far the most important find yet made among the ancient haunts of the cliff dwellers. Some of the houses contain four or five dwellings, one on top of the other, and on the plateau above the cliff were found many rains of temples of worship built of well-cut stones. A comparison of the collections of pottery and implements gathered in the cliff houses by the exploring party with those obtained in the Pueblo villages strengthens the theory that the Pueblo Indians are the degenerate descendants of the once powerful race that built the ruined cities of the plains, and then, retreating before some warlike foe, carved out the scores of dwellings on the sheer walls of dizzy precipices, and found in them, it may be for centuries, both fortresses and homes. Perhaps, says the New York Tribune, the hieroglyphic inscriptions seen by Mr. Stevenson will one day be deciphered and be found to contain the tragic history of the wasting away by wars and famines of the ill-fated people who, like the coneys of the Bible, made the rocks their refuge.

The British ship "Beecroft," which cleared at the Astoria custom house Dec. 5th went to sea yesterday. For more than forty days she lay idly at anchor, waiting for a chance to cross out. Owing to her deep draught 22 feet 6 inches—it was necessary to await the favor of the wind and tide, and several times during the past forty days it would have been impossible for her to have gone to sea; but these occasions have been comparatively brief. If there had been at Astoria a tug boat of sufficient size and power to handle large ships, the "Beecroft" could have gone out promptly and would to-day be two thousand miles on her way to Europe. The commerce of the Columbia river has endured an outrageous game of greed long enough.

With extension of the Oregon and California railroad there is certain to be a business boom in southern Oregon. Although the valley of the Rogue river was settled almost as soon as the Willamette valley, its far inland situation has delayed the prosperity which its varied advantages insure. It has the highest fertility, is adapted to stock raising, wool growing and general agriculture, and produces finer and greater variety of fruit than any other section of Oregon. It is fairly developed, and with railroad communication its land values, now very low, are certain to advance greatly. There is no finer field for investment anywhere.

In a report to the assistant adjutant general of the military division of the Pacific, General Nelson A. Miles, commanding this department, offers a few general remarks upon the "skeleton theory." It has been found, he says, "unwise, most expensive and least effective." The whole army, he thinks, could be recruited to the maximum limit of 100 men in each company for an additional ten per cent. in the annual appropriation, while its efficiency would be increased more than 100 per cent. By the present system, General Miles thinks the army has enough commissioned and non-commissioned officers.

An individual of Mormon proclivities, named Melvin, was arrested yesterday in northern Maine, for the trifling eccentricity of having three wives at the same time. The residents of a small town on the Canadian side, where one of his consorts resided, broke into the jail during the night and took him back with them where stern justice could be dealt without giving rise to unpleasant comment on the impartial execution of the law against that particular species of crime. Mr. Melvin should have removed to Utah, if he desired to indulge in his peculiarities without molestation.

The government appropriation for improving the lower Willamette and Columbia rivers, will be exhausted in a few days and the dredge-boat withdrawn. Recent cold weather and lack of rain have caused the Willamette to recede to nearly low water stage. It is necessary that the bar at Swan island be dredged immediately. The city council to-morrow night should appoint a committee to confer with Capt. Powell, United States engineer, and if the dredge-boat can be secured, should make an appropriation for this work.

Alaska is a land of ideal democracy. Each citizen does just as he pleases and nobody has a right to interfere. There is no law. This extreme of freedom paralyzes business and retards settlement and growth of the territory. There is no record of ownership of land, no power but private might to maintain order, no means of punishing crime, no legal means for the collection of debts—in brief, no sort of government whatever. Congress ought to provide for Alaska a simple and inexpensive form of government.

The duty on Hawaiian sugars, averaging two and a half cents a pound, is remitted. But this sugar costs consumers on this coast two and a half cents a pound more than duty-paying sugar costs consumers on the Atlantic side. Government loses $2,500,000 a year, and sugar is dearer to the people on the Pacific slope than when it paid the duty. The Spreckles ring in San Francisco makes the profits. Down with the treaty!

Oregon wheat of last season's crop is relatively one shilling per quarter cheaper in the English markets than the grain of the present season before. This is partly due to careless cleaning, but more to deterioration of the grain itself, a merely casual variation. Warehousemen should remember that the object of running cleaners is to clean grain, not to "put through" more bushels in a day than neighbor establishments.

Bismarck is reported by a Berlin correspondent as being particularly testy over the unfavorable reception given Emperor William's rescript by England. His recent defeat in the German elections, and the unpleasant coolness of the crown prince have already had a harsh effect upon the great chancellor's by no means sunny temper, and he appears to be in poor condition to receive unpleasant news.

The Atlanta exhibition had a run of three months. Viewed in all its results it may be called successful; but financially it was a failure. The total outlay was not far from $250,000, and the receipts were only $135,000. The stockholders will not get back more than one-fourth of their subscriptions.

The Boston university came into possession of a legacy of $2,000,000 last week, which was left it ten years ago. The faculty and students celebrated the event by a grand jubilee and we may expect soon to see that institution turn out a boat club and base ball team equal to Harvard or Cornell.

In the table of population of the United States, published yesterday, Illinois was given a population of only 1,077,871. The figures should be 8,077,871.

Perhaps the Guiteau jury will be seized with an "inspiration" to "remove" that misbegotten scoundrel. The time draws nigh.

CITY.

Mrs. Mrs. Wm. Corbitt.—News reached here day of the death of Mrs. Corbitt, the mother Wm. Corbitt of San Francisco, the senior of the firm of Corbitt & Macleay of this city. long and lingering illness borne with the christian fortitude. This estimable lady ac- ed her husband to California in 1852, crossing isthmus of Panama on mule back and arriving San Francisco when the now populous city was village. During all the trials and changes of life, she ever remained a true wife, a de- ted loving mother, and above all, a pure christian woman. She leaves three daughters and two sons to womankind and a loving husband to the loss of one ever good and dear to them. deceased was born in Toronto, Canada, of Scotch parentage of the old Covenanting stock.

Row.—Last night about half past eleven clock, in a saloon, on First street near C, was the scene of a big row, although the exact state of affairs could not be learned. Policeman Dubbins took into custody a man named John Kavanaugh, who came to the house with a terrible gash in his head, was so intoxicated he could not tell who hit him or how he had received the wound. It was a severe one, and appeared to have been done with a bottle. Considerable noise was made during the row, but the affair was so quieted down that nothing could be learned, and the streets were made. Kavanaugh was locked up in the city jall.

RECEIVED.—Mr. J. W. Kern of East Port- land received by express from Hon. Spencer F. Baird, United States fish commissioner at Washing- ton, a can containing carp for propagation in ponds. Mr. Baird writes that he has re- ceived a large number of applications from Oregon parties, and at the request of Congressman Lane the experiment of sending a can of fish was undertaken, to learn whether they could be carried that great distance. They arrived in good condition, and this fact was telegraphed to Mr. Baird at his request. The fish were placed in Mr. Kern's pond in the Waverly tract, east of the city.

MORNING.—Three saloons have already been visited by the police force, for selling liquor on Sunday. The first was on the corner of Washington, owned by Henry Mayer, and was closed in the police court yesterday, but the case was continued until Tuesday next. The second was on First street near Jefferson, was run by one Barkeeper, R. C. Kain, arrested and fined five dollars and costs, which was furnished. The evening the place on Madison street, between First and Second, was also closed and Kl. the barkeeper, arrested and placed under bonds. Both cases will be heard by Judge Bellinger.

PACIFIC PROGRESS.—Twenty-five men at work on Clark's Fork division, be- tween Arlington and Pack river, thirteen miles from the head of the lake. The weather has not been severe, and work proceeds rapidly. The bridge across the lake is ready for the rails will reach the front late this week. At Pack river there will be another bridge of 300 feet. Five pile drivers are at work, the piles and the foundations will be ready for the superstructure by the time the grade reaches there. Thirty miles beyond this point have been located.

The British ship Helen Marion, Fer- guson, having 16 feet 6 inches, ran aground on the bar last Thursday noon and is still there, with thirty men was sent down to her assistance, the vessel will likely get afloat to- day. She is an old-fashioned wooden ship, with a round stern and answer her helm, and got hung up on the edge of the channel. Another ship of the same class ran down only fifteen minutes be- fore, in a depth of twenty-one feet abreast of the wharf, and vessels now pass between her and the shore.

DISCONTINUED.—As soon as the sheriff's sale at the bar is completed the government dredge will be withdrawn for the season, as by that time will have been ex- cavated the recent cold snap the Willamette has fallen eighteen inches of the lowest point. It is understood that on Swan island there is but little over fourteen feet at low water, while on Swan island is the depth of 24 feet.

ASSESSMENT.—Yesterday the city tax roll was left by Auditor R. L. Durham, and, as was made by the council last Thurs- day, amounts to $11,306,415. The levy will be as follows: Fire department fund, three mills; department, two mills; lamp-post fund, one half mills; interest fund, one-half mills; sinking fund, three mills; total, ten mills. This will yield nearly $24,000 for a dredge.

DISMISSED.—It is hardly possible that the man who had his skull crushed at gas works ago, will recover. The wound is larger and his brain protrudes. He is delirious and he is only semi-conscious. The number of the Ancient Order of Hi- bernians, with the Sisters at St. Vincent's hos- pital, will call the attention required.

FIRE CALL.—Three of the five patients at the hospital are convalescent and will be out by the end of this week. The two reported as serious, Mrs. Brandley and child, are doing well and considered out of danger. The Glenn child, corner Thirteenth and Everett, is also well. Mrs. Daly and Miss Bubb, are convalescent.

The Willamette street Rail- road has accepted the charter granted by the last month and will commence operations as soon as the weather will permit. Mr. Baird writes that he has re- ceived a large number of applications from Oregon parties, and at the request of Congressman Lane the experiment of sending a can of fish was undertaken, to learn whether they could be carried that great distance. They arrived in good condition, and this fact was telegraphed to Mr. Baird at his request. The fish were placed in Mr. Kern's pond in the Waverly tract, east of the city.

The state circuit court for Mult- nomah county opened yesterday for the January term, Judge Boise presiding. The following officers were appointed the following officers: Sheriff, F. Bellits; C. L. DeRose; A. M. Powell. Following is the grand jury: P. W. Severson, Joseph Smith, H. T. Reid, N. Kennedy and John Er- ickson.

THE PENITENTIARY.—Sheriff Wm. Smith, of Lane county, arrived in the city last evening with two prisoners in charge, bound for the penitentiary. One is an Indian, convicted of larceny and the other, Bittars, and sentenced to one year each, and the other a white man, who received a sentence of three years for burglary.

ARREST.—Richard Roe, with a French name, and Ray Roby, were arrested by Constable Hall last night, charged with selling whisky without a license. The proprietor of a saloon in Watson's block, the woman is an inmate of his place. They were lodged in the county jail, where they will remain until the action of the grand jury.

ELECTION.—The following persons have been elected in the Christian Sunday school of this city for this year: Superintendent, Elder A. Hayes; assistant superintendent, Craigie Sharp; secretary, Miss Lizzie Howes; treasurer, C. H. Rose; chor- ister, Miss Addams; organist, Miss Lillie Irwin; as- sistant organist, Miss Clara Adams.

ESCAPED.—George Gordon, who has been under sentence of three years in the penitentiary, escaped from the East Portland insane asylum Sat- urday morning. Warden Miller. During the last few days Mr. Gordon's actions showed such decid- ed symptoms of insanity that his removal was decided upon.

SENTENCED TO DESERT.—Yesterday afternoon Charles Smith and Harry Lynch were arrested, charged with enticing sailors from and aiding them to desert from the vessel. They were released on bonds and appeared in the police court to-day.

DEPARTURE.—The Columbia arrived at Astoria yesterday morning, left at 1 P. M. and ar- rived at St. Helens bar at 6. Her passengers, mail and freight were brought up by the Lurline and arrived here at 10. The State arrived in at 2 P. M. and will cross out to-day.

DREDGE.—Work began in earnest yesterday at the mouth of the Sand fill, and ere many days that much needed structure, the Washington street bridge, will be a thing of the past. While the fill is being made all vehicles take to B street, which is in good condition now.

FIRE ALARM BATTERY.—Yesterday morning An- drew Simmons swore out a warrant for the arrest of Thomas Simmons, charging him with assault and battery. After having been arrested Simmons was fined by Judge Poltzin, found guilty and fined $10 and costs was paid.

PYTHIAN LODGE INSTALLATION.—The officers of Columbia Rebekah Degree Lodge No. 3, and their friends, are requested to be present at the meeting this evening, as the officers for the coming term will be installed.

SURVEY.—The survey of an addition lying south of the Catholic cemetery, in East Portland, has been completed by City Surveyor Campbell. It con- tains 20 blocks, and has been named Pleasant View.

ARRIVED.—The Aligos Bay, Anglo Norman and Oswego arrived to-day. The Beecroft, Wright, Dunnard, Woodhull and River Queen sailed out yesterday.

MINING MATTERS.

[Jacksonville Times, Jan. 14.]

D. W. Anderson and Jas. Priddy are engaged in mining in the vicinity of Farmer's Flat.

Wm. Ludington has charge of Hays & Magruder's mines on Rogue river and is busy piping, having plenty of water.

Much more rain has fallen in the northern portion of the county than in this, and the miners there are all busily at work.

Considerable snow has fallen in the mountains and there is some probability that this will prolong the mining season some what.

Messrs. Harrell and Bonner, of, lately from the north, are prospecting for quartz on Sardine creek. They pronounce locating in this section.

A. W. Presley of Jumpoff Joe precinct, Josephine county, informs us that the miners of that section have an abundance of water and are busy.

Reports reach us, and it seems to be well authen- ticated, that Green Rose of Galice creek are now taking out quartz that will pay $1000 a ton.

John Hall has assumed the management of Bybee, Newman & Hawkett's mine, near Waldo. There seems to be some misunderstanding between the partners.

Jimmy Burns, who is engaged in mining on Mis- souri flat, the other day picked up a nugget of gold valued at $55. He says that most of the miners of that section have plenty of water.

Frank Ennis and W. Cook returned from Galice creek last Monday. The former informs us that plenty of rain has fallen in that section and the miners are all at work there with full heads of water.

W. H. Benner, of the Centennial mine, in Willow Springs district, informs us that some piping has already been done there and that more ground has already been washed than there was up to this time last year.

Henry Klippel, accompanied by T. F. Rodgers, visited the squaw Lake mines the forepart of the week. Work continues on the reservoir, and as the new pipe recently ordered is now on the ground, operations will be resumed on an extensive scale be- fore long.

There was a heavy frost Wednesday night, which froze the water that was becoming abundant, and mining is almost suspended again. Should the weather moderate soon, miners can resume opera- tions generally as there is considerable snow and the ground is full of water.

Mr. Briggs has completed the survey of a water ditch on Wolf creek, which extends from Henry Smith's down Wolf and Grave creeks for some eight or ten miles and will supply water for a large amount of good paying ground. Mr. Morse, the agent of the company, hopes to have the ditch fin- ished at an early day, when that place will greatly increase its mining population.

John Lewman and Wm. Parris are working their quartz ledge on Brushy gulch, in the vicinity of Ap- plegate, with promising results. They have sunk down over 30 feet, and their ledge is about a foot wide, with an abundance of good quartz in sight. Gold can easily be seen in the ore with the naked eye and the owners are now engaged in grinding some of it in an arastra.

LAND LEAGUE MEETING.

A meeting of the Land League was held Sunday evening with R. D. Pitt in the chair. Secretary B. H. Dooling reported having examined the treasur- er's report and found the same correct. R. P. Quinn reported receipts of last ball up to date were $642 85, but no complete report was furnished.

A motion was made to send delegates to the con- vention for the celebration of the 17th of March, but was lost for the reason that nearly all the mem- bers of the league belonged to societies that would participate in the celebration, and as this league was composed of persons of all nationalities and creeds it could not be expected they should par- ticipate in celebrating any day except the national holidays of the United States.

Remarks for the welfare of the league were re- sponded to by Mr. Chas. Gordon, who also delivered an original poem.

Receipts of the meeting by collection of dues $3.

Queen Victoria's Fortune.

London Truth, December 21.]

It is usually supposed that the queen has laid by a great deal of money, and, acting on this supposi- tion, it is asked why she cannot provide for her family as a matter of fact she has not. When Prince Albert died many of the state departments were in debt; these debts have been paid off. Some of them—such as that of the master of the horse, for which £10,000 per annum is allowed—always have to borrow from the other departments or from the privy purse. The queen really does not put by as much as £20,000 per annum on an average of years. She has always given, I believe, £100,000 to each of her daughters who has married, and this has drained her purse.

OREGON TO MASSACHUSETTS.

Some time ago, Messrs Hodge, Davis & Co., of this city, read in a Massachusetts paper that Hon. Charles R. Ladd, auditor of that state, was afflicted with an incurable kidney disease, and had been obliged to give up work and return to his home. They imme- diately sent him a box of their celebrated Oregon Kidney Tea, and from time to time sent him other boxes. A few days ago they received from him the following letter:

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
Auditor's Dep't, Boston, Nov. 11, 1881.

Messrs. Hodge Davis & Co.: DEAR SIRS—I have no hesitation in saying that I have been much benefited by the use of the Oregon Kidney Tea as a remedy for a kidney difficulty which has troubled me for six or eight years. I can heartily recommend it to those who are similarly afflicted, as a safe and agreeable remedy. I shall test its virtues further, for I have great faith in it as a specific for many diseases of the kidneys. Respectfully yours,
CHAS. R. LADD.

The original of this letter can be seen by calling on Messrs. Hodge Davis & Co., Portland, Oregon, and the Oregon Kidney Tea can be bought of any drug- gist or dealer, in Oregon or Washington. Price $1 per box.

This is the time of year when Tennyson's immortal
"RING IN THE NEW, RING OUT THE OLD!"
Applies with peculiar force to the Dry Goods business. For, looking over our inventory, we find that our buy- ers, encouraged by a promising business outlook, were just a little too liberal in their purchases. In justice to them we must admit that the goods were as well bought as, from their long experience and from an unlimited supply of cash, could be expected. On the other hand, it is of the utmost importance to us, not to carry these goods over for the next season. We have a mortal hor- ror towards unpacking last year's goods and palming them off as fresh importations.

GUITEAU'S SPEECH.

A Rambling, Incoherent and Pointless Fusillade of Words which Judge Cox's Charity for the Jury Saved them from.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The following has been furnished for publication, to the associated press.

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor herewith to transmit my speech. It is my historical document and I desire it to be sent broadcast to the American nation. I am not certain that Judge Cox will allow me to deliver it, but I send it to my countrymen, and they and the president of the United States, if necessary, will finally adjudicate this case. If he does not, his name will go to history blackened as a gag law man. I am sure that the able chief justice and his associates who represent the Washington court in banc will rot with scorn upon the imposition of Judge Cox, and I am sure that the high-toned men of the nation will do likewise. I am my own counsel, and it is infamous if I am not permitted to address the jury who in my life is at stake. I would not trust the best man in America to close this case. I take no stock in Scoville's and Reed's theory of this defense. I removed the president and this speech contains my defense. It should be read by every American, and I desire you to give it the widest publicity by printing it in its entirety. I have the honor to be yours, etc.,

CHARLES GUITEAU.

U. S. JAIL,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15.

Washington led the armies of the revolution through eight years of bloody war to victory and glory; Grant led the armies of the union to victory and glory, and to-day the nation is prosperous and happy. To-day, Christmas, 1881, I suffer in bonds as a patriot because I had the inspiration and nerve to unite a great political party to the end that the nation might be saved from another devastating war. To-day I suffer in bonds as a patriot. There is not the first element of murder in this case. To constitute the crime of murder two elements must coexist. First, actual homicide; second, by malice in law or malice in fact. The law presumes malice from the fact of homicide. There is no homicide in this case, therefore no malice in law. The deity allowed the doctors to finish my work gradually, because he wanted to prepare the people for the change and also confirm my original inspiration. I am well satisfied with the deity's conduct with this case thus far. I have no doubt he will continue to further it to the end. Nothing but the political situation last spring justified the president's removal. The break in the republican party then was widening week by week, and I foresaw civil war. The Lord wanted to prevent the rejection of this desolation and inspired me to execute his will. Why did he inspire me in preference to some one else? Because I had the nerve and nerve to do the work. The Lord does not employ incompetent persons to serve him. He sees the best material he can find. Of all the world was the only man who had authority from the deity to do it. Without the deity's pressure I never should have sought to remove the president. This pressure destroyed my free agency. The deity compelled me to do the act, just as a highwayman compels a man to give him money, often placing a pistol at his victim's head. The irresistible pressure to remove the president was on me for thirty days, and it never left me. When awake it haunted me day and night. At last an opportunity came and I shot him. As soon as I fired the shot, the inspiration was withdrawn and I felt immensely relieved. I would not do it again for a million dollars. Only a miracle saved me from being shot or hung then and there. It was the most intense and foolhardy act possible, and no one but a madman could have done it. There are more than thirty-eight cases in the Bible where the deity has directed to kill for the good of the people, that is, to save them from some greater trouble. Had Jefferson Davis and a dozen or two of his cabinet been shot dead in January, 1861, no doubt our late rebellion never would have been. Gen. Arthur as president is doing splendidly; no man can do better. I am especially pleased with his combativeness, spirit and wisdom toward the opposition. It is exactly what I wished him to do, viz.: unite the factions of the republican party to the end that the nation may be happy and prosperous. In short, everybody is politically happy save a few cranks, and they will probably be happy soon. I have no doubt as to my spiritual destiny. I have always been a lover of the Lord, and whether I live one year or thirty am his as a matter of fact. I presume I shall live to be president. Some people think I am as good a man as the president. Gen. Arthur is a good man in every way. I happen to know him well. I was with him constantly in New York during the canvass. So with Gen. Grant. Conkling and the rest of these men. They have not taken an active part in my defense because it would not be proper. The prosecution have introduced certain witnesses who are guilty of much perjury, and it has excited my wrath and I have denounced them in plain language. I hate the mean, deceptive way of the prosecution.

A man who crucified the Savior of mankind and Paul his great apostle, went to an ignominious death. The inspired men must do their work and leave the result with the deity, whatever becomes of them. The worst that men can do is to kill you, but they can't prevent your name and work from going thundering down the ages. Had I stuck to my law business there in New York and Chicago, I should have been a rich man to-day; but I had other work to do. My book, "The Truth," contains my theology. It cost me trouble enough and I have no doubt but it is efficient. During the three years I was on the clergy I incurred some small debts, which I have not yet been able to pay. A thousand dollars would pay every dollar I owe. Some men owe a hundred thousand dollars and are considered high-toned. The prosecution have made a great noise about my owing some board bills, but that has no bearing on this issue. Mr. Corkhill who has taken it upon himself to dig into my circumstances, owes a hundred times more than I do. I always pay when I have money, but there wasn't money in theology and I knew it when I went into it. To-day I suffer in bonds because I had the inspiration and nerve to remove the president that the nation might live. I expect you, gentlemen of the jury, will remove these bonds, to the end that I go forth a free and vindicated man. That is what you are here for, and I ask you to liberate me. Tell the American people that you find no evil in me. It is the opinion of some of the ablest members of the bar that this court has no jurisdiction in this case. This point will be pressed if necessary in arrest of judgment, but I expect you, gentlemen of the jury, to justify the act. You are here to vindicate my inspiration, but I would have done it any time after June 1st, if I had known that I was to be shot dead the next moment. I had no power to prevent it. My free agency was entirely destroyed. I was under duress. In law any one under duress is not responsible for his act. On this ground I ask you to acquit me. You may ask, "How do we know you was under duress?" My word for it. No one else can know the fact but the deity and me. I know it; the deity knows it. I owed my duty to the deity and to the American people, regardless of the consequence to myself. No one wants to shoot or hang me save a few cranks who are so ignorant they can hardly read or write. High-toned people are saying, "If the Lord did it, let it go." The president did not die before his time. If the Lord had not wanted him, he would not have directed it." Side death is nothing. All men have died and all men will die. The president might have been taken by a railroad accident or slipped on an orange peel and broken his neck. My interview with Brooks I consider a special providence in my favor. I talked with him freely about the deity, my inspiration and the political situation, which showed the condition of my mind on July 2d, when I was precipitated on to the president. A vast deal of rubbish has got into this case on both sides. The issue is, who fired that shot, the deity or me. Had I fired it on my own personal account no punishment would be too quick or too severe for me, and this is why I protected myself by going to jail and having national troops ordered out. I would humbly suggest that the jury be charged as follows: That if they believe that I believed it was right for me to remove the president because I had special divine authority for so doing, they will acquit on the ground that I was overpowered by the deity.

For a jury to hang a man in my mental condition on July 2d when I fired on the president, would be a lasting disgrace to the American people. The mothers and daughters of the republic are praying for a jury to hang a man in my mental condition on July 2d when I fired on the president, would be a lasting disgrace to the American people. The mothers and daughters of the republic are praying for agency. The deity compelled me to do the act, just as a highwayman compels a man to give him money, often placing a pistol at his victim's head. The irresistible pressure to remove the president was on me for thirty days, and it never left me. When awake it haunted me day and night. At last an opportunity came and I shot him. As soon as I fired the shot, the inspiration was withdrawn and I felt immensely relieved. I would not do it again for a million dollars. Only a miracle saved me from being shot or hung then and there. It was the most intense and foolhardy act possible, and no one but a madman could have done it. There are more than thirty-eight cases in the Bible where the deity has directed to kill for the good of the people, that is, to save them from some greater trouble. Had Jefferson Davis and a dozen or two of his cabinet been shot dead in January, 1861, no doubt our late rebellion never would have been. Gen. Arthur as president is doing splendidly; no man can do better. I am especially pleased with his combativeness, spirit and wisdom toward the opposition. It is exactly what I wished him to do, viz.: unite the factions of the republican party to the end that the nation may be happy and prosperous. In short, everybody is politically happy save a few cranks, and they will probably be happy soon. I have no doubt as to my spiritual destiny. I have always been a lover of the Lord, and whether I live one year or thirty am his as a matter of fact. I presume I shall live to be president. Some people think I am as good a man as the president. Gen. Arthur is a good man in every way. I happen to know him well. I was with him constantly in New York during the canvass. So with Gen. Grant. Conkling and the rest of these men. They have not taken an active part in my defense because it would not be proper. The prosecution have introduced certain witnesses who are guilty of much perjury, and it has excited my wrath and I have denounced them in plain language. I hate the mean, deceptive way of the prosecution.

A man who crucified the Savior of mankind and Paul his great apostle, went to an ignominious death. The inspired men must do their work and leave the result with the deity, whatever becomes of them. The worst that men can do is to kill you, but they can't prevent your name and work from going thundering down the ages. Had I stuck to my law business there in New York and Chicago, I should have been a rich man to-day; but I had other work to do. My book, "The Truth," contains my theology. It cost me trouble enough and I have no doubt but it is efficient. During the three years I was on the clergy I incurred some small debts, which I have not yet been able to pay. A thousand dollars would pay every dollar I owe. Some men owe a hundred thousand dollars and are considered high-toned. BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Situation in Egypt.

ALEXANDRIA, Jan. 16.—The Egyptian situation is becoming very grave. Parliament refuses to recognize the right of voting the budget. The programme of parliament clashes with that of the Khedive and Cherif Pasha, prime minister. If parliament persists in its attitude Cherif Pasha will resign. The Anglo-French note has not overawed the national party. The valley of England and France is extremely excited. Precipitate action might produce actual danger.

Bismarck's Billionaires.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A Berlin correspondent writes as follows: There are signs of apparent displeasure between Bismarck and Crown Prince Frederick William. The chancellor is in a bad temper and he is by no means satisfied with the reception the emperor's receipt met in England.

William Wishes to Assist.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—The Post: Berlin dispatch states that Emperor William has consented to the inspection of experts to decide as to the best way in which Germany could participate in Arctic explorations.

Money Matters.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—An association is being formed here for the promotion of a bimetallic currency in Germany.

Earthquakes in Switzerland.

GENEVA, Jan 16.—Recent land slips in Switzerland are ascribed to frequent slight shocks of earthquake. No less than twenty-one shocks have been observed since December last.

Postponement Wanted.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—It is announced the government intends proposing to the chamber of deputies a prolongation of the Anglo-French commercial treaty one month.

All Pork must be Cooked.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—In the chamber of deputies to-day the government presented a bill prescribing regulations for the importation of foreign pork. It excludes uncooked chopped meat used as sausages.

Carver Ahead.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Three day's pigeon shooting match at 1000 birds, between Dr. Carver and Mr. Bingham, began to-day. To-day's score are—Carver 126; Bingham 123 birds.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

Probably Murdered.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Jan. 16.—It is supposed David H. Smith has been murdered by his wife and sons, who habitually mistreated him. His body was found and the young children of the family cast suspicion upon the older members.

Mrs. Smith and sons were taken to jail and on the way Dan Smith confessed he did the act alone, that his mother and brother had no share in it and no knowledge of it. They quarreled about a horse and Dan shot his father, then broke his skull with a hammer and threw the body into a well.

Murdered for Money.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 16.—Frank Simons, 410 West 5th street, was found dead on the floor of his store this morning, with two terrible gashes on the back of his head and an ax lying near with the butt end covered with blood. Simons had considerable money and from appearances he was making a loan when killed. His money was gone. Suspicion falls on Fitzmaurice alias "Wild Jack," as he had quarreled with Simons.

PRESS OPINIONS.

Chicago Tribune: There were 306; now there are 305; Dave Mouat, owing to circumstances over which he had no control, has gone to the penitentiary. But Finnegan is still at large.

Philadelphia Press: The fork in the road is just ahead of the Arthur administration. There is some doubt which way President Arthur will turn; there isn't a bit which way the vital majority of his party want him to.

Philadelphia Times: The coalition between President Arthur and Boss Kelly is now complete in New York. Kelly will give the stalwarts the control of the legislature, and Arthur will give Kelly his reward in legislative protection for his local power. As Joss Kelly elected Cornell and Garfield, there is fitness in his distinct recognition by the stalwart power.

New York Sun: It is alleged on high authority that if Gen. Garfield had lived he would not have aided the republican party in Virginia. His hostility to the repudiation of public debts was so profound and so firm, we are told, that he would never have surrendered it to considerations of mere party advantage. If this statement be true, it is most honorable to Garfield.

Galveston News: There can be no consolidation of disaffected elements in Texas by any so-called independent movement in which the democrats and the greenbackers are wanted solely to gain another state for the republican party, and to set up another machine, and, in all probability, a more unscrupulous and a more riotous machine, in place of the old Bourbon concern.

Utica Herald: Ex-Senator Dorsey still remains in the position of secretary of the republican national committee. If he should happen to be indicted by the grand jury this week it may occur to the members of the committee that it is worth their while to hold a meeting for the purpose of electing a new secretary. And even if Dorsey should not be indicted, the need for a new man in his position will be quite as imperative.

Boston Herald: President Arthur has not, thus far, constructed his cabinet on the patchwork, compromise plan. He has chosen rather to make it a unit—and an Arthur unit. Ned Sherman man, nor Blaine man, nor Garfield man, has been called to his counsel. The preference has been for those who were supporters of Grant; but this may be partially attributable to the fact that the president himself was a warm partisan on the same side.

New York Tribune: Scoville's conduct goes to show that the considerate and even generous treatment which the assassin has received has been wasted on his friends as well as himself. This man having murdered the president of the United States, they evidently think it is the duty of the government to pay the expense of satisfying a jury that he was "inspired," and, upon that fact being established, of supporting him in some comfortable asylum for the remainder of his miserable existence.

POLITICAL COMMENT.

The Boston Journal, an earnest and vigorous republican paper, believes in the designation, "Garfield Republicans." It says:

There are tens of thousands of men in this country who believe in the exalted, progressive republicanism devoted to the interests of the people to which the "Rock of Ohio" devoted his life in contradistinction to that republicanism which is satisfied with the victories of the past, and in the present is engrossed in a scramble for the spoils of office and in securing local appropriations. There tens of thousands—fast increasing—have the right to call themselves Garfield republicans.

The star-route organs have made Blaine the heir to all the abuse they had begun to lavish on Garfield. The Cincinnati Commercial says:

The same lot of persons—the same newspapers—that were abusing Garfield up to the day he was assassinated, the star-route "whose effort was to stain Garfield with their own dirt—are now abusing Blaine. They are determined to associate the ex-secretary of state in every way with the murdered president.

This bit of prophecy is ventured by the New York Evening Post.

If, as is thought by some of President Arthur's friends as well as some of his opponents, it is his purpose to turn the old third-term or "stalwart" faction, which now forms only a small minority of the party, into a majority, or to subjugate the minority to it by giving it all the offices, it requires no gift of prophecy to predict that he will wretchedly fail in his purpose and wreck his administration upon that very point.

Referring to the statement that President Arthur has resolved "to encourage the young men of the party," the Chicago Tribune says:

It was this desire, no doubt, which induced him to choose for his cabinet advisers four ancient politicians who will never see the sunny side of 63 again. Howe is a youth of budding promise. Frelinghuysen is a dashing young blade. Folger and Brewster are sprigs of the law. Edwin D. Morgan, who was invited to be secretary of the treasury and declined, was another youthful person. The next call will unquestionably be directed to Peter Cooper or Bojourner Truth.

AN UNDERGROUND RIVER.

One of the Natural Wonders of Idaho Territory.

[Idaho Democrat.]

Mete Green, not long since, while out with his cattle, made a most startling discovery, and one that may possibly take its place among the grand wonders of Idaho. He was riding along early in the morning on the divide between Indian creek and Snake river, when his horse sprang aside, snorted and otherwise gave evidence of having seen or heard something unusual. The spot was on a little knoll, on the comb of the ridge, and Mete, who had been almost asleep, taking a sweep around with his eyes to learn the cause of his horse's behavior, finally rested his vision on what seemed to be a hole in the ground a few paces distant. Dismounting he was soon looking into a funnel-shaped orifice fifteen or twenty feet deep by ten or twelve at its rim in diameter. At the bottom of this funnel—the soil giving out there—was a rift in the rock two or three feet in width by four or five in length, which seemed to open into the very bowels of the earth. Through this aperture came up from the depths below a terrible roaring, as of a leaping cataract, a mighty rush of waters, tumbling over rocks. The ground trembled and the subterranean noise continued uninterruptedly. Mete remained some time, and the longer he listened the more convinced he became that what he heard was running water; but how far down to the stream he could not even conjecture—might have been a few feet or half way to China. And as the fissure was large enough to take him in should his foot slip or "head swim," his observation was not an extended one. The principal thing he did while there was to listen low and strong and think loud—at a safe distance from the brink of the hole. Mr. Greene told us last week that a party of cattle men were preparing to make a thorough investigation of the discovery by lowering one of their number down with ropes, with a view to outlaying the stream if possible in watering stock during the winter months when the surface streams are all frozen up. Their search may develop a second Mammoth Cave, or a vast and unfathomable abyss whose mysterious depths will never be explored or its gloomy solitudes disturbed by inquisitive man. Catlin, the artist, mentions these underground rivers, and in his writings tells of one which he heard in the very backbone of the Rocky mountains, running, he thought, from north to south.

ANSWER THIS.

Did you ever know any person to be ill without inaction of the stomach, liver or kidneys, or did you ever know one who was well when either was obstructed or inactive? and did you ever know or hear of any case of the kind that Hop Bitters would not cure? Ask your neighbor this same question.—Times.

Senator David Davis and the Newsboy.

[From the Washington Star, Dec. 28.]

Since the meeting of congress in December the Hon. David Davis, president pro tem. of the senate, has been in the habit of purchasing the Star from a ragged little newsboy who sells papers about the capitol. On Saturday last, when the boy came with his papers, the senator called a messenger and directed him to go down in the city and purchase him a new outfit from cap to boots, which was done. He then took the boy to the barber's shop in the capitol and directed the barber to cut his hair and give him a bath. When this was done he took the boy to his room and gave him some good fatherly advice, sending him away with an additional present in the way of small change to spend Christmas. When the boy returned to his mother he was scarcely recognized in his metamorphose. The story leaked out through the barber, to the great disgust of the distinguished gentleman, who, as a friend remarked upon this incident was related to him, "is constantly doing that sort of thing."

Terribly sarcastic father: "Now, I must bid you good night, Mr. John, for I have an engagement. But say, why don't you stop and take breakfast with us some morning? You always go away an hour or two before it is ready."

Mr. Daniels lives in Illinois. He was recently called for by a crowd for a speech, and a stranger in town who heard the call, thought the supply of rum in town must have given out, and asked when the next train left.

"Tommy," said a mother to her seven-year-old boy, "you must not interrupt me when I am talking with ladies. You must wait till we stop and then you can talk." "But you never stop," retorted the boy.

DR. BRENAN,
The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of
ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of Disease of the generative organs or private diseases. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHŒA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organizations broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation and the best of medical advice given, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Inclose postage stamps for list.
